SUMMARY

FROM HERE addresses one of the biggest challenges we face – climate change. It's a novel about the "activism" of ordinary people, and about a women's quest for love, and a place in the world.

"Mortifying, fascinating, intriguing." – Tzeporah Berman, author of 'This Crazy Time: Living Our Environmental Challenge'

"A slow-burning, contemplative and disarming novel. Internal personal struggles set at a time of environmental crisis have never been more entertaining." – Kit Caless, editor Influx Press
